

Free resources for anyone who wants to learn to fly!

If you live in the USA; the FAA regulates all things aviation.

FAA Student Pilot's Guide

AOPA is a great resource for all things regarding General Aviation
While you're there, you can sign up for AOPA Flight Training magazine here.

The Young Eagles is a great organization for kids between the ages of 8-17. <http://www.youngeagles.org>

From the good folks at Plane & Pilot, you can get lots of free aviation stuff here. <http://www.learntoflykit.com>

John and Martha King are legends in the aviation industry. I used some of their videos to help learn how to fly, just like many other pilots!
<http://www.kingschools.com>

Has it been a while since you last flew? If so, check out this <http://www.rustypilots.org> from AOPA.

Want to learn how to fly a helicopter?
<http://www.helicopter.com/training>